

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT
Knowledge Management Plans and Futures Analyst (2 positions)
Location: Fayetteville, NC
AAP 10-15/16

Responsible for the development of strategic plans and methodologies in the area of Knowledge Management. Translates the Concepts and Futures Division visions to the customer. Provides detailed execution plans that can be followed to successful arrival at the desired end state. Uses analysis of existing KM infrastructure to outline, describe, develop and track implementation of one, two and three year strategic plans for KM. Examines implementation of short term, tactical KM initiatives to ensure that they are aligned with the long term KM vision. Establish position continuity. Documents functional roles and responsibilities and supporting policies, practices, procedures and processes. Reduces the learning curve associated with personnel turnover with the customers various sections. Assess suitability and appropriateness of existing processes and procedures. Advanced degree required. A Master's degree in any scientific discipline or in Business Administration (MBA) is considered a plus. Experience with the military and Special Operations Forces (SOF) a plus. Exceptional communications skills (speaking and writing). Publication in any peer reviewed journal a plus. Excellent presentation skills. Background in developing and presenting executive summaries and technical level briefings to persons in senior leadership positions. Experience as an instructor (particularly in a military environment) considered a plus. Any demonstrated success in marketing or in product branding considered a plus. Background or demonstrated success in KM, Business Process Re-Engineering, and Project Management considered a plus. IT and Acquisition Management experience is a plus. Must be willing to deploy OCONUS to support KM initiatives throughout the SOF community.

Current Top Secret/SCI security clearance required.